

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

SHOW 834-3

AIRDATE: OCTOBER 15 & 16, 1983

BRUCE JOHNSTON, the singer who sounded so much like the BEACH BOYS that he was invited to become an actual Beach Boy, talks about his role in the saga of this famous California band. He also tells us how the Beach Boys sound influenced JOHN LENNON and PAUL McCARTNEY.

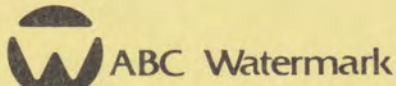

We'll salute BOBBY DARIN, the late singer and actor who could give the world inspired silliness (as in his hit "Splish Splash) and seriousness (demonstrated in his performance in Captain Newman M.D. which earned him an Academy Award nomination.) Though his life would be cut short at the age of 37, Darin had many hits, including "Beyond The Sea," "Splish Splash," and "If I Were A Carpenter."

We'll also talk to MILT JOSEFSBURG, the comedy writer who devised the 1960s most expensive television joke. The skit was part of a LUCILLE BALL show which featured JACK BENNY as a guest. Josefsburg, who has also written for Laverne & Shirley and Mork & Mindy, tells us all about this elaborate stunt.

The third week of October, 1965 is put under the spotlight as we look at some of the events which made that time memorable and play the top three songs from that week. All this and more is featured on SOUNDTRACK OF THE 60s.
