

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

SHOW 834-8

AIRDATE: Nov. 19&20, 1983

JOHNNY BRISTOL, former Motown writer-producer, explains why we were stomping to his hits during the 60's. He was on his way to becoming a biology teacher but, after being discharged from the service, he was signed by Motown Records. When he turned to writing and producing, he was unstoppable, crafting many of Motown's greats, such as Marvin Gaye & Tammi Terrell, The Supremes, Edwin Starr, The Temptations, Junior Walker and Stevie Wonder.

We'll take a look at how The Beau Brummels were almost named The Bo Dereks. And how The Righteous Brothers were first named The Paramours.

Our movie memory is "Spartacus," starring Kirk Douglas. We'll also remember that on November 21st, 1968 The Beatles were awarded a gold record for The White Album. What made this particular gold record so remarkable is that The White Album wasn't released until four day later.

We'll spotlight the top three songs of the third week of November, 1963, which were "Come A Little Bit Closer" by Jay & The Americans, "Baby Love" by The Supremes and, Number One, "Leader of The Pack" by The Shangri-Las.

All this and more can be heard every week on SOUNDTRACK OF THE 60s.
