PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Show 834-14

AIRDATE: December 31 & January 1, 1984

Welcome to a very special edition of SOUNDTRACK OF THE 60s called "THE SURVIVORS." You'll not only relive the soundtrack of your memories, but you'll venture into the eighties. We'll be highlighting performers who had top forty hits during the sixties and survived to have top ten hits in the eighties.

ERIC CLAPTON survived the pressures of being ranked the world's top guitarist and being a member of two of England's most outstanding supergroups during the sixties, The Yardbirds and Cream. Today, Eric's a solo artist and he's never felt healthier or played better. Three of Eric's songs are "For Your Love" with the Yardbirds, "Sunshine of Your Love" with Cream and "I Can't Stand It" by himself Eric Clapton.

DIANA ROSS is a quadruple survivor, she sang her way out of the Detroit ghetto. Was the lead singer of the top female group of the sixties, enjoyed a successful movie career in the seventies and came back with a contemporary sound in the eighties.

We'll see how the vice-president of Motown Records was a survivor back in 1958 when he was struggling along with the label and we'll guess who the twelve-year old genius with the Motown label is.

All these survivors and more can be heard this week and every week on SOUNDTRACK OF THE 60s.
