

WITH GARY OWENS

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Show K841-5

AIRDATE: February 4/5, 1984

Well this weeks bit of time traveling takes us hop-scotching through those fabulous times of Beatles and Beachboys with the one and only Gary Owens. This week Gary talks to the hosts of one of the most outrageous programs of the decade. We also take a look back at Spanky and Our Gang and some big deals of the 60's. That's this week on SOUNDTRACK OF THE 60's.

As soon as you hear their name you can't help but think of those old black and white shorts that are still on early early in the morning. But this Spanky didn't work out with Alfalfa or Buckwheat. Elaine McFarland former hatcheck girl to the windy city used her nickname along with a gang of talented guys to move her into the top ten with songs like "Sunday Will Never Be The Same" and "Like To Get To Know You."

Sock it to me, you bet your bippy and good night Dick. Became catch phrases for a nation, when in the late sixties Dan Rowan and Dick Martin came on the scene. With their particular brand of humor television entertainment was never the same. And any stones they left unturned were readily flipped a few years later on the same network when Saturday Night Live reached the public. But Laugh In was the first and absolutely the best. Though scheduled against the current number one and two programs (Gunsmoke and Lucy) Rowan and Martin and Goldie and Joann and even Dick Nixon toppled them both in a little more than two months. Giving them, to quote Mr. Dangerfield, "No Respect."

Inspired by an antacid commercial the T-Bones made it to number 3 for the first week in February of 1966 with the classic "No Matter What Shape." The Beach Boys were next up with "Barbara Ann" at number two and the number one record for this week was a British import, Miss Petula Clark and "My Love."

All this and more can be heard every week on SOUNDTRACK OF THE 60's.
